Very Interestingly Discusses the Great Hereafter before Big Audience.

Alexander H. MacMillan, of New York, a lecturer of national fame, delivered a lecture in the Victoria theater here at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon on "The Great Hereafter," before a large and appreciative audience.

Mr. MacMillan spoke with force and power that indicated thorough knowledge of his subject matter. He quoted the scriptures with great familiarity, holding that nothing but the word of God can reveal His plan. Our God is not a text out of harmony with other texts causes confusion and misunderstanding. The Bible is one harmonious whole, each writer telling in different words the same story or things pertaining thereto. With general education and present day Bible helps, concordances, studies in the scriptures, Bible dictionaries, within the reach of all, we have much advantage over people who lived a century or two ago when but few could read and when Bibles were a luxury.

While the lecturer laid the axe to the root of many theories promulgated by theologians past and present, claiming them to be traditional and pointing out the errors by comparing them with what he claims to be scriptural teaching, he did so with Christian bearing, showing that he felt kindly and sympathetically toward all. In presenting this message he is endeavoring to enlighten mankind as to the true teaching of the scriptures, untainted by creeds, traditions and opinions that have come down to this generation from the Dark Ages, and to defend the Bible against the rapid encroachments of higher criticism and evolution, which theories he declared would have no advocates if the reasonableness of the scriptural record could be looked upon with unbiased eyes; and furthermore, to make known to all the cause of all the ills of mankind and to point man to the way that leads to everlasting life and eternal happiness.

Mr. MacMillan is clearly not a believer in Hell as a place of eternal torment, but holds that any truly honest scholar must acknowledge that the word Hell has no thought of torment in it; that both the Hebrew word "sheol" and the Greek word "hades" which are translated into the English word "hell," mean the death state or condition—oblivion. He urges all inquiring, earnest Christians to write a post-card to the International Bible Students Association, Brooklyn, N. Y., for a free treatise on "hell" which quotes and explains fully every text containing the words "sheol" and "hades."

In substance the lecture was to the effect that God's purpose in creating man was to populate the earth and give man dominion over it. But before turning the keys over to him entirely, God wisely tested man's obedience. Adam, although perfect, failed in the test, possibly because he lacked experience. By permitting Adam to forfeit his right to life for himself and all his posterity an experience with pain and death was gained and man learned the lesson of an exceeding sinfulness of sin, that ultimately all who will come into harmony with His gracious arrangement may appreciate and obtain the

Here is an example worth reading:

A. J. Smallwood, 330 E. Pike St., Clarksburg, W. Va., says: "My kidneys were weak and disordered and caused me to have severe attacks of backache and pains through my sides. If I sat still for any length of time, the trouble became worse and mornings, I often arose feeling stiff and sore. When Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, I got a supply at the City Drug Store and they completely and permanently cured me. At that time I told of my experience in a public statement and I am now pleased to confirm my former testimonial."

Gift of Life under God's righteous laws. For this reason God has permitted sin and death to reign six thousand years.

The only hope for life for man lay in the ransom price which Christ gave on Calvary, and this guarantees a redemption and resurrection from death and an opportunity for eternal life to the world of mankind, still in sin and under the curse of death. As soon as the work now in process has been completed, the taking out from amongst all nations a people for His name, the Church, which is to take part with Christ in the work of restoring man from his fallen condition to the perfection lost by Adam, then will be due the resurrection of the world of mankind and the work of restriction. (Acts 3:19-21.) This work the Bible states is to be of one thousand years duration—during which time man would be given a full opportunity, with evil restrained, hereditary weaknesses removed, together with the experience of sin and death, of gaining perfect and everlasting life on earth.

At the close of the thousand years all will be mentally and physically perfect, yet some may not inwardly be in harmony with the righteous laws of the kingdom; these will be destroyed in the Second Death. The physical earth will have also undergone changes of purifying and perfecting, and when the last rebel has been destroyed, when death has been swallowed up in victory, man's eternal destiny will be a permanent home in an earthly Paradise.

The righteous will inherit the kingdom "prepared for them from the foundation of the world," and perfected for them at the close of Christ's reign; while the Bride, the Lamb's wife will be on the spiritual plane of the heavenly kingdom, that mansion which our Lord at the first advent said He went to prepare for them. And so they will forever be with the Lord. Thus, the speaker affirmed, we find answered our prayer, "Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven."

WHAT HATFIELD SAYS.

The last legislature having submitted to a vote of the people the proposition to go amend the state's constitution as to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, this question is with the people to decide. Personally I do not use liquors in any form. If nominated and elected governor of West Virginia and the prohibition amendment prevails, I shall use every means at my command to make the sale and distribution of intoxicating liquors absolutely impossible.

On the other hand, should the amendment not prevail, I shall favor a stringent local option law and license laws that will limit the right to sell liquors to persons who will fully comply with the requirements of the statutes, which should be framed with a view to rigid control and restriction of such traffic.—Dr. H. D. Hatfield, Republican nominee for governor.
